Bethel Library Founded 70 Years Ago

Library Staff: Mrs. Earl Davis; Mrs. George Taylor, acting librarian, Mrs. Marshall Hastings.

At the annual meeting of the Bethel Library Association Dr. R. R. Tibbets was re-elected president, beginning his sixteenth year as head of the Association.

During the years 1884 and 1885 a group of local people established the first library in Bethel and from that modest project our modern and well-equipped and well-supplied library has grown.

Among the early founders were Mrs. A. E. Horvick, Dr. Charles Hill, Mrs. Triestram Durell, Mrs. Gilman P. Bean, Mrs. William Straw, Major Alfred True, Miss Phoebe Buxton, Mrs. Francis Tuell, Miss Elberta Burnham and Miss Annie Frye.

Whist parties, garden parties, parlor lectures and plays of local talent were sources of revenue. One melodrama given in Patton's Hall on Spring St., was an outstanding success. Miss Mae Wiley and Miss Annie Frye, both local beauties and wearing lovely gowns had the leading roles. The profit from this show was forty dollars and the committee in charge was delighted.

Good Wiley, a storekeeper, donated 200 volumes from his lending library, as many more were bought and the public library and reading room was opened in the room above what is now Colton's restaurant. Mrs. Melissa Clowman Barker was the first librarian.

Before many years the little law office on Broad St., once used by Judge Enoch Foster, was bought and converted to a pleasant home for the expanding number of books. In 1937 a main building was added built by J. M. Burbank and the original law office became the all, now housing the stacks and most of the 400 volumes.

Over the years many books have been given by generous citizens. The library of the late William Hastings including the complete works of Trollope was one of the outstanding bequests.

Librarians of other years were Maud Thurston Glover, Mrs. Fred Clark and Miss Annie Hamlin.

Mrs. H. M. Farwell served faithfully for fifteen years. Following her retirement two years ago Mrs. John Howe was elected.

In recognition of the 70th anniversary the library staff, consisting of Mrs. George Taylor, acting in Mrs. Howe's absence, Mrs. M. R. Hastings and Mrs. Earl Davis are conducting a twelve week series of book reviews and silver teas. This has been a popular innovation and will continue through May. The following people have analyzed new books as they have appeared:

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Francis Bean, County C. D. Director, and his assistant, Lowell Henley, recently met with the Board of Selectmen and myself to help Frank Hunt, our local C. D. Director, in trying to "stimulate interest in Civil Defense. One item mentioned was to encourage people to have on hand extra supplies of food, kerosene lamps and oil in case of any sudden disaster. Our local stores have a "Grandma's Pantry" list that may be of some help for suggestion as to food items if you wish to take advantage of it.

You may be interested to know that our trucks and grader have earned enough during the winter to replace the tires on the grader and exchange the oldest truck for a new one.

FORMER BETHEL GIRL IN COLLEGE PLAY

Miss Ann Newmarker has been named to play the featured character of Magda Svenson in the forthcoming three-act play, "The Night of January 13," at American International College in Springfield, Mass., on May 13 and 14.

A sophomore at AIC, Ann has been active in all of the productions of the Garrett Players, which is the school's drama club. In December she was featured as Mrs. Lolla Doe in "The Sweetest Girl in Town," the school's first musical comedy, which was presented in the Springfield Museum of Fine Arts. She won wide acclaim for her hilarious Tango Terrible in this production as danced with her partner, Dr. August Quark, played by Robert Lewis of Longmeadow, Mass.

Recently she has resappeared in specialty numbers from this production in the Springfield Municipal Auditorium and at the Sheraton Hotel. Ann has also appeared in the school's presentation of the three-act comedy, "Strange Bedfellows" and in "You Never Can Tell," a television play.

Other of Ann's campus activities include the Literary Club, secretary of the Women's Athletic Association, DAR Dormitory Council, Dorm treasurer, choral club, Inter-School Council and Sigma Lambda Kappa Sorority.

Ann is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Newmarker, who for several years was a teacher in the Bethel schools.

MR. MERTON FARWELL

Mr. Merton Farwell died at a nursing home in Auburn, April 28th, 1955.

He was born in Bethel, October 11, 1876, the son of Charles Calvin Farwell and Abbie Wiley Andrews and has spent his life in the house and town of his birth.

His marriage to Maude Pratt occurred May 2, 1899, and to them were born two children, Marjorie, now the wife of Henry T. Anderson, Needham, Mass., and Andrew, who passed on when a very young child.

Mr. Farwell was a charter member of Purity Chapter, OES, and a Past Master of Bethel Lodge, F. and A. M., from which he had received the fifty year membership medal.

He retired from business some thirteen years ago because of ill health, and although he suffered an ever increasing illness, he bore it with characteristic cheerfulness and patience. He was a kind and thoughtful neighbor, ever ready with a helping hand.

His friendship was steadfast and lasting and to his wife and daughter who survive him he gave love and devotion.

The funeral services were held April 30, 2 p. m., at the Greenleaf funeral home, Rev. Charles Pendleton officiating.

The bearers were Leslie Davis, Thomas Brown, Elmer Bennett and Eugene Van Den Kerckhoven, all Past Masters of Bethel Masonic Lodge.

Interment was at Riverdale Cemetery. "Only the body has died and has been laid in the dust. The Spirit lives eternally in the shelter of God's love and mercy. All life comes from Him; all life to Him returns; all souls are in His keeping."

CONGREGATIONAL CHOIRS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONCERT

The West Parish Congregational Church of Bethel will present its Junior and Senior Choirs in their fourth annual spring concert of sacred music on Sunday evening, May 8, at 7:30. All friends of church music are cordially invited to attend.

The concert will be in the same unique format that has been followed in previous years. It is an exemplification in music of a typical Protestant church service from Prelude and Processional through Scripture, Postlude and Benediction. No words will be spoken throughout the service.

The offering will be used toward material and collars for the new Junior choir gowns. An initial money-raising public dinner was prepared by members of the music committee in March. The very effective scarlet gowns, gathered at the yoke, and trimmed with white Peter Pan collars and white buttons, were first worn on Easter Sunday. Many members of the Guild and Ladies Club and mothers and friends of Junior choir members contributed their efforts toward completing the gowns.

In addition to the two choirs, three guest soloists will be featured. Dorothy Easton, contralto, Lexie Marcuse, soprano, and Norman Grogg, tenor, of Bethel.

Following the concert there will be a reception in Garland Chapel in honor of the members of both choirs and the soloists.

What's Your Hurry?

It would seem that the practice of speeding on our village streets will soon result in an accident of such proportion or importance that the drivers will become conscious of their responsibilities either from the punishment by law or suffering from the effects of their lack of judgment.

The fact that as usual in all law-breaking the greater number of the people intend to behave reasonably and with due respect for the rights of others must tend to keep the ill effects of headless driving near a minimum, and should not make it appear unreasonable to appeal to the better judgment of these offenders.

It is admitted that the best of drivers sometimes suffer lapses of their best sense, which might have unpleasant results but for the good sense of others. But a comparatively small number of our local drivers have a conspicuous way of being the cause of a lot of inconvenience and of exposing others to some danger by their calculated or unconscious selfishness or plain rudeness.

It is noted that Railroad and lower Main Streets are scenes of much fast driving especially in traffic entering the village. While this may be understood, still it is not excusable. In each case these approaches to the village are junctions or intersections which call for a reduced rate of speed, and of course the principal offenders are local people who know better.

With the great number of accidents and fatalities due to excessive speeds, it is not surprising that many times the difference of five or ten miles an hour less makes the difference between life and death. The joys of high speed are not worth it, are they? Surely we can start enough earlier to enjoy being the cause of a lot of incon-

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Ralph de Toledano is a New York editor, and a writer who has become an authority on Russian espionage and the communist underground. Two of his non-fiction books — Spies, Dupes and Diplomats, and Seeds of Treason, the latter written following his coverage of the Hiltz trial — made a considerable stir. They mined no words, dealt with specific names, dates and places, and it has been said that the American communists along with editing and unwitting fellow-travelers made a strong effort to prevent them from being favorably reviewed and to bury them in the bookstores. However, both did get much notice and had substantial successes.

Now de Toledano has continued his anti-communist work in a different literary form — the documentary novel. This new book, Day of Reckoning, was published recently by Henry Holt and Company. It is a book which can and was designed to be read on two levels of meaning.

First of all, it is a suspense story. Backgrounds and characterizations are always vivid and sometimes brilliant. There is a swift pace and some long, rambling, sometimes tedious, flashbacks to the Spanish Civil War are especially notable both for their graphic color and feel, and for the descriptions of how the Soviets delicately and cruelly helped to destroy the Loyalists they were supposed to be supporting. The story line is that of a man seeking to avenge a friend — an anti-communist anarchist — who has been murdered by a Soviet hatchet-man. On the other level, the book, work of fiction though it be, has its roots in grim truth. Its characters — from the Soviet professional killer to the well-educated, well-connected State Department official who serves the Russians — have or have had their counterparts in American life. So distinguished a writer as John Dos Passos has said: "Day of Reckoning casts a lurid beam into some of the dark unpalatable corners of recent history. . . . What makes your flesh creep is that so much of it is true."

The Saturday Evening Post cited the novel in an editorial discussion of the argument that any government employee accused of communism should be entitled to meet his accusers face to face. It observed that if this were the rule, it would be next to impossible to flush out a man like the State Department official described by de Toledano. The Post went on: "His accusers are either FBI operatives who have infiltrated the communist organization after prolonged training and indoctrination, or they are actual members of the Red conspiracy who have had enough and are anxious to expose it. If the FBI operative is required to identify himself publicly, his usefulness is over the Government is shy one more vital important soldier in the undercover war against communism. If the 'informant' is a would-be convert, communist, his reward for helpfully attempting to serve his country may be death."

This is but one of the important and difficult questions that Day of Reckoning raises in dramatic form. As Eugene Lyons of Reader's Digest has put it, the story "is set against the very core of the world we live in."

my P P ET EEEVE
by Mike Bennett

THERE'S a pill or powder these days for almost any type of illness or disease, yet spring fever and the common cold consistently resist the best efforts of science and medicine.

The two ailments are alike in that weather conditions often greatly influence their ability to deliver a stern and low blow to some unsuspecting victim. If a choice had to be made, the cold would win hands down as the worst of the pair, since more than one human being burdened with a sniffing nose and a clogged cranium has wished there were some quiet and honorable way to just give up the ghost and fade away. Spring fever sufferers, on the other hand, can keep a glimmer of hope alive by putting both feet on a desk, the hands behind the head and gently closing the eyes. If this is done in the proper manner, mind and spirit slide away to some never-never land of off-forbidden wonderment.

The more science and medicine learn about the evil habits of the germs which spread these mean-and colds from one helpless individual to another, the more care and attention is recommended, preferably at the moment of the first sniffle.

Some progressive companies, in fact, are even suggesting to their employees: "If you have a cold, stay home. Keep it to yourself."

In all fairness, they will one day have to add a second reminder: "If spring fever has you down, don't come to the office and ruin everyone's morale. Take the day off and go fishing."

Register one head and strong vote for the second program, and please — get your feet down off that desk!

MY IDEAL

To begin with I live at "Swan's Corner." I was quite interested in the little article that our "Town Manager" had in the local paper April 29, regarding our "cross road." That's that little strip of road connecting our Sunday River road with the Rumford road. You know it would be a wicked shame to close that road! And no more money than the town has expended on it the last five years never would break any town no matter how poor they were. Our "town manager," nor no other person that has never lived here at the corner has the faintest idea of the amount of travel over that piece of road. The past three years a knock-kneed rabbit needed his life insured to go over there but did that stop any of the traffic? It did not because it was such a saving in distance! Look at the distance it saves our mail man and the school

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

When a US Senator speaks out that it is time to get Sambo's foot out of the door in a 100 or more activities, I feel some. The gentleman speaking off is Senator McClellan from Arkansas. He has a ring-side seat — he sees what is going on. He says making false teeth, hunting for-bearing seals, selling insurance, making the demon rum, spectacles, plus another 100 kinds of boring-in on the citizenry of the land, is not shooting square with such citizenry.

A tax free outfit like the Govt. can run anybody out of business. Even with the more or less misunderrated blowout, you go to work and let the Govt. — with no taxes and let the Govt. all the electricity of the land, somebody and everybody — slayman to death to housewife — is going to be nicked for the tax loss. That is as sure as there are, here and there, small apples on any apple tree.

Making blowouts is no more a fit job for Sambo than is bartering, home painting, or raising chickens. If this Senator McClellan of Arkansas can get his idea across through 35 of his bi-weekly senatorial nagging, he will have earned his salt and then some — including a check.

Yours with the low down,
JO BETHEL

PIPELINE MEN AND WIVES BANQUET AT NEW BERLIN HOUSE

The annual get-together of the Portland Pipe Line men and their wives on the Northern Division was held at the New Berlin House, Berlin, N. H., on Saturday evening, April 30.

The program of the evening was conducted by Co-Chairmen Bud Cormier and Bill White and assisted by Harry Corrigan, with an opening skit on Merle Tenney and "The 12 Bottles of Tame Cider." Following, Herman Emery and Merle Tenney entertained with a comedy skit — "Why Boys go Wrong."

The program continued in the Fun Room upstairs with piano accordion selections by Mrs. Paul King of Bethel followed by vocal solos by Ed Hickey and group songs by Herman Emery, Red Perham, Harry Stephenson, Frank Ross and Benny Norton. In the following three act farce entitled "The Fatal Quest," the king was played by Red Perham, the Duke by Bud Cormier, the Queen by Marie Stevenson, the Princess by Adrienne Norton, and the Curtain by Larry McNeill.

The evening's affair closed with a dance of waltzes, Lady of the Lake, Mountain Dew, etc., with Mrs. King at the piano and piano accordion, and Paul King, "calling them off."

Present at the affair were: From Sutton Station: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Randle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foss, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Garneau, From Lancaster Station: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roney, Mr. and Mrs. George Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Al Hancey, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pierce and Ed Hickey, From Shelburne Station: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corrigan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Larry McNeill, From Shelburne Warehouse: Mr. and Mrs. Bill White, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cormier, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stephenson, From North Waterford Station: Mr. and Mrs. Paul King, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hutchison, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Eames, Mr. and Harold Perham, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bowerman, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Luebeck, From Raymond Station: Mr. and Mrs. Merle Tenney, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Plummer.

International Falls, Minn., Daily Journal: "The pay-your-own-way spirit which still dominates a sizable portion of our agricultural population was dramatically demonstrated . . . when Minnesota's dairy farmers repaid an 18-year-old debt of $20,000 to the state treasury . . . thereby demonstrating a respect for public funds that is all too rare in our times."

It may be noted that the article referred to is a paid advertisement by Oxford County for three weeks. Although the petition is over the Town Manager's signature it does not necessarily express his opinion of this road situation. — Editor

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Lesson-Sermon used in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, is available to everyone who desires to study it.

Golden Text: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Corinthians 15: 22).

CONGRESS IS ALARMED AT THE

economic plight of the farmer. And now even some business publications are taking note of the tremendous drop in farm income as a menace to the entire economic outlook.

This column has given considerable space during the past months trying to point up the danger signals to the nation's economy, as reflected in rapid decline of farm income, its effect upon business and industry related to the farm market, and the dangerous emigration of farm families to the city.

One weekly business publication even said this farm migration was a good thing, that because the farm publication had declined by several hundred thousand persons over the past five years, the plight of farmers, per capita, was not too bad, the over-all income was divided up among so many less farmers.

This business publication, however did not look at the other end of the telescope . . . in that farm mortgage debt last year increased over a billion dollars; that value of farm assets has dropped 10% since 1932 and that foreclosures on farm mortgages increased 40% in 1954 over 1953.

Divide these statistics up among the per capita farmers and you get a different picture.

The Wall Street Journal reported recently that 8% of dairy farmers have gone out of business in the Chicago area during the past year. The U. S. News & World Report, a Washington business magazine in a recent issue, takes cognizance of the farm depression in this manner:

"Their (farmers) plight recalls the 1920s, when agriculture slumped long before the big depression . . . the farm problem is worsening now . . . more trouble lies ahead. Thinking back to the 1920s, some economists are wondering if this long-continued trouble may not prove to be a serious weakness for the nation as a whole."

Here are some figures which indicate the force with which the farm depression may hit the rest of the nation's economy:

With not farm income only $12 billion dollars last year, and going lower in 1955, as compared to more than $18 billion two or three years ago . . . consider these facts: farmers customarily use 16.5% of all petroleum products, more than any other industry; they use 9% of steel production, more than the automobile industry; they use 12% of chemicals; they use more rubber than any industry except auto, and according to a reliable source, the amount of rubber they use would equal 20% more than required to put five tires on every new car manufactured; they are among the heaviest buyers of textiles and, with REA, are now one of the largest markets for household appliances in the electric field.

Politicians in congress would like to let the farm legislation rest until 1956, an election year. But the real friends of the farmers are determined to put up a battle, first in the house, then the senate over a new 50% of parity bill, before farm price supports can slip down to 75% of parity as provided in the flexible price support law.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Thursday, May 5
Read Ephesians 5:14-21.

If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you will, and it shall be done for you. (John 15:7, RSV).

SOMEONE says to another, "Father grumbles. Mother is discontented. I am uneasy all day. We are only three in the family. My father gets more salary than your father. There are six in your family. Now what is it that makes your home so happy that you sing songs in the morning and evening every day?"

The other replies, "They are not common songs but hymns. Yes, our home is a happy one, and we have a reason for it. When Mother worries, Father says 'Why don't you tell Jesus about it?' When Father is confused and troubled, Mother says, 'Let's pray about it.'"

Christ is the head of our home. And so we sing morning and evening, and read His Word because we are happy in Him. Singing and reading and praying keep us happy.

Storings may come and go, but the home where Christ is worshipped in the singing of hymns and the reading of Scripture and in prayer will always know the joy and happiness that come from God.

Prayer
Dear Lord, help us always to have our front door open to Thee, our rooms swept fresh for Thee. Bless us that we may show forth the happiness that testifies to the fact that Thou art here, dwelling within us. In Thy name we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Christian homes radiate good will to all.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The Lesson-Sermon used in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, is available to everyone who desires to study it.

Golden Text: "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive." (I Corinthians 15: 22).

CONGRESS IS ALARMED AT THE

economic plight of the farmer. And now even some business publications are taking note of the tremendous drop in farm income as a menace to the entire economic outlook.

This column has given considerable space during the past months trying to point up the danger signals to the nation's economy, as reflected in rapid decline of farm income, its effect upon business and industry related to the farm market, and the dangerous emigration of farm families to the city.

One weekly business publication even said this farm migration was a good thing, that because the farm publication had declined by several hundred thousand persons over the past five years, the plight of farmers, per capita, was not too bad, the over-all income was divided up among so many less farmers.

This business publication, however did not look at the other end of the telescope . . . in that farm mortgage debt last year increased over a billion dollars; that value of farm assets has dropped 10% since 1932 and that foreclosures on farm mortgages increased 40% in 1954 over 1953.

Divide these statistics up among the per capita farmers and you get a different picture.

The Wall Street Journal reported recently that 8% of dairy farmers have gone out of business in the Chicago area during the past year. The U. S. News & World Report, a Washington business magazine in a recent issue, takes cognizance of the farm depression in this manner:

"Their (farmers) plight recalls the 1920s, when agriculture slumped long before the big depression . . . the farm problem is worsening now . . . more trouble lies ahead. Thinking back to the 1920s, some economists are wondering if this long-continued trouble may not prove to be a serious weakness for the nation as a whole."

Here are some figures which indicate the force with which the farm depression may hit the rest of the nation's economy:

With not farm income only $12 billion dollars last year, and going lower in 1955, as compared to more than $18 billion two or three years ago . . . consider these facts: farmers customarily use 16.5% of all petroleum products, more than any other industry; they use 9% of steel production, more than the automobile industry; they use 12% of chemicals; they use more rubber than any industry except auto, and according to a reliable source, the amount of rubber they use would equal 20% more than required to put five tires on every new car manufactured; they are among the heaviest buyers of textiles and, with REA, are now one of the largest markets for household appliances in the electric field.

Politicians in congress would like to let the farm legislation rest until 1956, an election year. But the real friends of the farmers are determined to put up a battle, first in the house, then the senate over a new 50% of parity bill, before farm price supports can slip down to 75% of parity as provided in the flexible price support law.

SCHOOL NEWS

Grade 5—Mrs. Kneeland

We have a new girl in our room, her name is Donna Orrs from East Stoneham. She came here on Monday. During the meeting of the Hobby Club we modeled with clay, and made all kinds of things.

Friday we made pictures out of scraps of paper, using no pencils. Each one was very good, and they are on our bulletin board. We are very sorry to hear of Charles Haines' accident and hope he will be back very soon. He was in the hospital but is home now. Reporter, Susan R. Boynton.

Grade 6—Mrs. Hastings

Last Friday for art we made pictures out of colored paper. Monday Mrs. Hastings brought some books for our room library.

Tuesday we sang and lined up for the Spring Concert. We got a gold star in writing. In geography we finished the Great Plains States and are working on the Western United States. Mrs. Hastings just finished Oscar the Trained Seal and now is reading the Last of the Mohicans. We have 49 days of perfect attendance since September. Reporters, Nancy Saunders and Carol Keoske.

Grade 6—Mrs. Lord

Our room is very proud of Linda Brown, for she won first prize at the Oxford County Style Dress Revue, in the junior group, at South Paris last Friday evening.

She made and modeled a pale green organza sun-dress with bolero. Others from our room who modeled and received ribbons were: Lois Freeman, Claire Berry, and Marjane Brown. Walter Bailey brought a salamander to school recently. Over the week end it laid eggs. We are studying the multiplication of decimals in arithmetic and in English we are taking up letters of invitation, regret, acceptance and congratulation. Reporter, Scribner and Mrs. Alice Knight, Welchville; Mrs. Dorothy Brown and Mrs. Leona Andrews, Waterford; Mrs. Nina Baker and Mrs. Joyce Lamb, West Paris; Mrs. Myra Woodworth, South Paris; Mrs. Lotte Linnell, Norway; and Mrs. Georgine Thayer, Paris Hill.

Grade 7—Mrs. Gunther

Orlando Fraser is back after a week's absence due to trouble with his knee. David Myers has been Mrs. Gunther's bodyguard all year. However, the duties have become so strenuous that he has been forced to enlist the aid of Tommy Kimball. Ushers for graduation are Judy Harrington, Betty Swan, Orlando Fraser, and Chuck Epper.

David Myers, Kenneth Pease and Barbara Mundt have not yet missed a day of school.

Grade 8—Mrs. Darby

Tuesday we started marching for our graduation. It is a new step called the "Hesitation Step". The music is also different than previous years. Speaking parts have also been tried. The class president has started on her speech. Gloria Burris is going to Cape Cod, Sunday, May 8, and is returning May 11 or 12. She is going to visit some relatives with her sister. The 8th grade fair will be held this Friday. All the prizes were handed out for the games. We encourage you all to come. For a class song, the pupils will write the words, and set them to a tune. The class will choose the best one. We will also do the same with the motto. Last Friday a lot of the girls were absent because they had to go to South Paris for a 4-H Style Dress Revue. Miss O'Connor was here last week and we had our tests. Reporters, Gloria Burris, Lee Ann Grover.

Grade 8—Mrs. Lurvey

We are having a test over metric figures in arithmetic today.

In Social Studies we have finished our chapters relating to Coal, Oil and Iron Ore. We have started a contest in which each week Mr. Aspinall puts some questions on the bulletin board and if we can find the answers and get them right there is a reward of 10c.

We also have a news corner, in which, if we find something in the newspaper of any interest, we tack it up as the news of the day. Former Bethel Pastor Going to Colorado

(From a Lowell, Mass., newspaper)

LOWELL—Rev Kingsley Hawthorne, pastor of the Eliot Union Congregational church of this city since September of 1950, has accepted a call from the Colorado Congregational Conference. Rev Mr Hawthorne, who has been prominent in civic affairs as well as Protestant church circles, during his pastorate here, announced the call and acceptance to his congregation at Eliot church yesterday morning. The call will become effective June 1.

Rev Mr Hawthorne, in accepting the call from Dr Leon Grubaugh, minister and superintendent of the Colorado Congregational Conference, will become pastor of a new church to be known as Christ Church, Denver. It will be located in the new $20,000,000 subdivision of Denver called Harvey Park which has between 700 and 800 homes. The local clergyman's duties will include gathering a congregation from this location as well as serving as pastor of the new Christ church.

With his wife and their daughter, Sarah, Rev Mr Hawthorne will remain in Lowell until May 1 when his pastorate of Eliot church will terminate. At that time the Eliot Union Congregational church will formally be constituted the Eliot Presbyterian church by the Newburyport Presbytery in accordance with votes of the Eliot and First Presbyterian churches. Action of the two churches took place only a week after Rev Mr Hawthorne had received the call from the Colorado Conference.

What happens

if you

DISAGREE

All the property and casualty insurance companies that we represent are honest and forthright in paying claims. But insurance is a complicated business. And, as in other phases of life, honest differences of opinion do arise.

If you should ever disagree with your insurance company, you would look after your interests? If you yourself are not a professional insurance man, you would certainly be at a disadvantage. If you deal directly with the company, you must be prepared to be your own spokesman.

This question need never arise. The solution: buy insurance through this office. We represent not just one company, but several companies, which enables us to select the company and policy best suited to your needs. And if a difference of opinion ever arises between you and your company—and such differences can add up to many thousands of dollars—we represent your interest to the best advantage.

We invite you to consult us without obligation.

The County Agent and Farm President were unable to attend. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the possibility of holding an Oxford County Farmers Field Day this summer.

As many of you may remember the Oxford County Soil Conservation District sponsored a field day last August at the Donald Mason Farm at Woodstock. Although it was felt that the field day last summer was a great success, the Supervisors of the District would like to see a Farmers Field Day in the County with all agricultural group and organizations participating. The Oxford Pomona Grange indicated that they were interested in participating in a group field day and appointed a committee of John McKeen, Ellis Davis and James Lassiter to work with the Supervisors and other organization and the Pledge to the Flag, then several songs were sung. It was made a motion and seconded to have a food sale on May 14 in the afternoon. A motion was made and seconded to have Nancy Davis and Betty Chapman solicit the people. It was made a motion and seconded to adjourn the meeting.

Our next meeting will be held at Phil Korhonen's home on May 11, 1955. Respectfully submitted, Betty Chapman, secretary.

NEW BOOK ON MAINE MINERALS TELLS OF STATE AND COUNTY RESOURCES

A book of great value on Maine Minerals, which summarizes much of the information gathered by this generation of prospectors, has been published and may be obtained from John Dillingham of Naples. "Maine Mines and Mineral Locations," was written by Philip Morrill of Derry, N. H.

The author gives credit for the results of a lifetime of study by representatives to formulate plans for a County Field Day.

The Pomona Grange in conjunction with the Oxford County Soil Conservation District are inviting all agricultural groups to a meeting on May 10, 1955. Those being invited to this meeting include Oxford Pomona Grange, Oxford County Farm Bureau Association, Production Credit Association, Maine Dairyman's Association, Oxford County Extension Association, Maine Milk Tax Committee, Maine Forest Service, Farmers Home Administration, Oxford County Agricultural and Stabilization Committee, and Supervisor of the Oxford County Soil Conservation District.

The meeting will be held on the 3rd floor of the Masonic Building, over the Post Office, in South Paris at 8:00 p. m. May 10th.

prospectors and regrets the loss of such knowledge which was gained by workers of the preceding era. Oxford County minerals occupy a considerable part of the book and several pages of maps of this and nearby localities add to its value. It would seem that the book is well worth the dollar asked, even to those who have little knowledge of our mineral resources.
